9-Year Report on Purple Martin

A lone martin scout showed up at one of the two boxes in my "Back 40" game refuge this morning.

However, Bob Westbrook, owner of the Oaks restaurant, 'phoned me Thursday night that his first martin arrived that day.

And of course the holder of the state record for first martin sighting is C.H. Wilson, retired RFD mail-carrier of Fulton, who broke his own state record this year with a sighting Jan. 26 at 9 a.m., also witnessed by Herb Cox, and reported in this column Jan. 28.

This is the ninth year I have been keeping a record on arrival and departure of martins at my boxes. Built of redwood they have become shabby and are being replaced this season with two new aluminum boxes. Installation day isn't critical because it will be a couple of weeks before martins begin actual nesting. If you are keeping your old boxes I strongly advise that you clean out sparrows and their nests this week-end—martins won't throw the sparrows out—they'll simply look up some one's box that has already been cleaned out.

As you know, martins migrate between North and South America, spending four Spring months here, leaving about July, four Autumn months in South America, with the other four months spent in flying time on the roundtrip between continents.

Here is the nine-year record of arrivals and departures from my two boxes on the S. Walnut St. preserve:

1963	— March 21	— July 17
1964	— March 14	— July 4
1965	— March 6	— July 12
1966	— March 15	— July 4
1967	— March 29	— July 15
1968	— March 18	— July 4
1969	— Feb. 22	— July 5
1970	— Feb. 10	— July 3
1971	— Feb. 26	—

Winter Like Weather Due to Return

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More winter-like weather will return to the state, after a cold front pushes through Arkansas tonight and Saturday.

The National Weather Service is predicting sunny skies and chilly temperatures for the state through Saturday.

The weather service issued a tornado watch for 11 Southeast Arkansas counties until 8 a.m. today, but there were no tornadoes reported.

The highs Thursday ranged from 67 at Fayetteville to 72 at El Dorado, Little Rock and Fort Smith.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 57; Harrison, 56; Jonesboro, 55; Pine Bluff, 58; Texarkana, 56; El Dorado, 63; Memphis, 58; Little Rock, 60 and Fort Smith, 52.

Precipitation recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. today included .07 of an inch of rain at Jonesboro; .10 at Pine Bluff; .26 at Texarkana; .23 at El Dorado; .01 at Little Rock and a trace at Memphis.

Bill to Blunt 'City Killer' Law Passed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House approved 58-36 and sent to the Senate Thursday a bill that could blunt the effect of the "city killer" law.

The bill would provide that annexation by a city would be approved if supported in a special election by a combined majority of those who vote in the city and the area to be annexed.

The present law, adopted in 1960, provides that an annexation needs the approval both of the voters of the city and voters of the area marked for annexation in separate elections.

Foes of the news measure contended it was unfair to rural residents because they, residents of areas subject to municipal annexation, historically are outnumbered by city dwellers who could vote on the annexation issue.

The Senate, meanwhile, defeated on a vote of 4-23 a bill by Sen. John F. Gibson of Dermott that would have required that school taxes voted on any future bond issue be used exclusively for bond debt service.

Gibson had told the Senate he expected the bill to be rejected, but he said it marked the start of a campaign on his part to "tell the people the truth about school finance."

During 1968 and 1969, school districts collected $39.4 million in debt service revenue, but needed only $16.8 million of it for debt service, he said.

The other $22.6 million was transferred as "surplus revenues" and used by the districts for other purposes, Gibson said.

Wholesale Price Jump Dampens Hope That Inflation Is Fading

By BILL NEIKIRK

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Another big jump in wholesale prices has dampened the Nixon administration's optimism that inflation is fading, foretelling possible higher costs to consumers in the weeks ahead.

Despite the eight-tenths of one per cent increase in the preliminary wholesale price index for February, the administration pushed ahead with its drive to reduce inflation and unemployment at the same time by expanding the economy.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally told the House Appropriations Committee Wednesday the administration is not satisfied with the way the Federal Reserve Board has been expanding the money supply since September.

He said the administration may not be able to accomplish its ambitious economic goals unless the independent board pumps more money into the nation's sluggish economy.

Gov. Bumpers Bows to Legislature, Scraps Part of Tax Program

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bowing to legislative resistance, Gov. Dale Bumpers scrapped part of his tax program Thursday, allowed a major alteration of his income tax bill and added a proposal to raise the excise tax on cigarettes by five cents per pack.

The Senate reacted by adopting an administration-sponsored amendment cutting the highest proposed personal income tax rate from 9 to 7 per cent, compared to the 5 per cent presently in law. The Senate then approved the amended bill 29-6 and sent it to the House.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee, meanwhile, gave "do pass" recommendations to three other administration tax bills as passed by the Senate. They would repeal utility company and transportation company exemptions to the use tax, bring some services under the 3 per cent sales tax and cut from 2 to 1 per cent the discount merchants are permitted for collection and early payment of sales tax revenue.

Bumpers refused to call his turnaround a compromise, but, at a noon news conference, he told reporters, "You can call it that if you want to."

He also refused to blame legislative opposition in plain terms, but acknowledged that he was making the changes in order to present a tax program the General Assembly would accept.

The governor may have handed himself a new headache with the cigarette tax proposal. It needs approval of three-fourths of the members of each legislative chamber for passage and that came as a surprise to Bumpers when newsmen told him of the legislative requirement late Thursday.

"That will present some serious difficulties," he said. The renovation of his tax package came less than 24 hours after he had said he would fight "until the last dog dies" for his own income tax bill.

That statement came in a late Wednesday news conference, prior to a meeting with his staff that night. Aides said that Bumpers was convinced during the staff meeting that the legislature would not accept the income tax bill without some changes.

Bumpers asked the legislature to produce $26 million in new state revenue and offered a program he said would bring in that amount. He said his revised tax package would produce about $27 million.

Legislative sentiment for a sales tax increase apparently was not significantly diminished Thursday by the adjustments in the tax package.

Sen. Clarence E. Bell of Parkin, one of 11 Senate sponsors of a bill to raise the sales tax one-half per cent, attempted Thursday to move the bill out money, the administration believes it can reduce unemployment to 4½ per cent by mid-1972 while scaling down inflation to 3 per cent.

But the Fed has cast doubt on whether the economy should expand as fast as Nixon wants this year, fearing a new wave of inflation.

The February rise in wholesale prices pointed to future inflated prices for consumers, if the Labor Department's index proves to be the barometer it has in the past.

The Department said the eight-tenths of one per cent preliminary increase last month built the January and February rise in wholesale prices to 1.5 per cent, the biggest two-month jump in 14 years.

When consumer prices slowed considerably in January, Nixon's economic advisers glowed with optimism and said it was proof of its policies of fiscal and

Club Owner Testifies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bob Morgan, 33, former owner of the Cold Duck Club in Little Rock, testified for about an hour Thursday before the Pulaski County Grand Jury.

Morgan said his testimony was "in a way" related to the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, but declined to elaborate on his relationship with the ABC.

The Grand Jury convened Feb. 18 and speculation has been that an investigation is being made into the ABC.

Morgan confirmed that he owned the club during August of 1970 when an incident occurred involving two former ABC agents. The incident resulted in a charge of disturbing the peace against then ABC agent Joe M. Hill.

Door Is Not Closed on Sales Tax Hike

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Although Gov. Dale Bumpers has repeatedly expressed his opposition to an increase in the state sales tax, he has not completely closed the door on his acceptance of one.

The governor continued at a Thursday news conference to keep his options open, particularly if the legislature presents him with a half per cent increase.

He made these points in his discussion with newsmen:

— That he would veto a 1 per cent increase in the sales tax if his renovated tax package passed the legislature.

— That he would veto any sales tax increase if it came to him before his revenue program passed.

— That he did not know what his decision would be if the legislature approved a half per cent increase and combined it with approval of his revenue program.

The governor said that if the sentiment in the state were "very strong" for a half per cent increase after his program passes and if the increase passed easily, "this would weigh on my mind."

Similarly, he said, if the increase "skipped" by in the legislature and created controversy, "I might veto it."

"I do not want to be a party to a sales tax increase," the governor said. He claims it is a regressive tax and should not be increased without accompanying reform in the income tax.

He said he did not want the legislature to hand him an increase until his revised income tax bill has been enacted.

Thieu Threat Hanoi Forces of Invasion Discounted Overrun South Vietnam Base

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Vietnamese threats to invade North Vietnam are almost totally discounted in Washington, but U.S. officials indicate they are making a serious impact in Hanoi.

The idea of such an invasion was put forth again this week by South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, who was quoted as saying an attack on the North is only a matter of time.

In Saigon, a spokesman for Thieu said today the president had been quoted inaccurately and out of context.

Although the American officials say there are no plans for such a strike north across the demilitarized zone they take seriously evidence Hanoi is concerned, but probably not to the extent its public statements indicate.

According to analysts here, Hanoi leaders now see their territory becoming vulnerable to a degree previously unknown in the Indochina war, because of the growing strength and mobility of the South Vietnamese army. In addition, the North Vietnamese army, although still tough and experienced, has been weakened by massive losses in recent years. It is estimated North Vietnam's troop strength is 500,000 men; South Vietnam's 1.1 million.

This is a situation the reverse of that existing before the United States entered the conflict with full air and ground forces in 1965.

Hanoi's reaction so far has been to issue strong accusations against the United States and Saigon, charging them with plotting an invasion.

These charges are thought in Washington to reflect in part a real fear by Hanoi of invasion, and in part an effort to get more support from the Soviet Union and China.

Hanoi is said to hope stern warnings from Moscow and Peking will discourage any impulse President Nixon might have to order or approve an invasion of North Vietnam.

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese paratrooper base inside Laos has fallen to the North Vietnamese, allied military sources say.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits has said out loud what some other Republican senators are saying privately: The Vietnam war could doom President Nixon next year as it did former President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1968.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a report to be issued next Wednesday, federal investigators have blamed the plane crash that killed 31 persons including part of the Wichita State University football team on a sighting route that wound up in a dead-end canyon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Urban lobbyists voice dismay over a Nixon administration decision to allocate its proposed urban development, revenue-sharing fund according to a formula largely ignoring a city's past and future plans to meet its problems.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Army intelligence coordinator has told a Senate subcommittee that competition in the military's domestic spy business was so great that unwitting agents sometimes wrote reports on one another.

SEATTLE (AP) — A 19-year-old U.S. Army inductee from California who said he wanted to go to Cuba, has hijacked a jetliner and settled for a landing in Canada where he has been taken into custody by Canadian authorities.

SAIGON (AP) — A pilot said he was signalled down to the outpost by troops "popping green smoke." They were North Vietnamese, but "they were dressed in ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) uniforms," the pilot said. "They got them from the dead, I guess."

After he landed his Cobra gunship, the enemy troops opened fire. The pilot took off in a rush and literally skidded into Khe Sanh, Barton reported.

The U.S. Command threw wave after wave of fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships in the battle to save Hill 31. Barton reported two more U.S. helicopters were shot down in Laos, and the fate of the crews was not known.

Saigon's drive into Laos now appears to be in serious trouble. North Vietnamese troops attacked several other South Vietnamese bases and field positions both to the north and south of Highway 9, the focal point of the drive.

South Vietnamese forces have made no forward movement in the past nine days. The fighting Thursday and today was some of the heaviest of the Indochina war, and some U.S. officers said it was the heaviest.

Not since the enemy's big TET offensive of 1968 have the South Vietnamese suffered such heavy losses.

"There are no South Vietnamese troops on Hill 31," one source said.

There were some survivors, but how many was not known. They fled and were reported in Hill 30, another base six miles southeast of Hill 31, also was reported under siege at dusk. Heavy casualties were reported there. U.S. helicopters were lifting them to a forward command post on the Vietnamese side of the border.

South Vietnamese paratroopers were massed along Highway 9 with supplies and trucks, ready to move to reinforce some of their badly battered units spread along the highway.

Despite the massive American air support, North Vietnamese troops were reported to have captured portions of the Hill 31 base late Thursday.

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese paratrooper base inside Laos fell to the North Vietnamese today, and the 450 defenders were virtually wiped out, allied military sources said.

The North Vietnamese then laid siege to a second paratrooper base six miles to the southeast, and field reports said they were inflicting heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese defenders.

The fall of the Saigon base on Hill 31 was the second major defeat for the South Vietnamese in the 19-day-old Laotian campaign to disrupt enemy supply traffic down the Ho Chi Minh trail. Last Sunday a ranger battalion was driven from a base five miles away with 323 of its 450 men killed, wounded or missing.

Shortly before Hill 31 was overrun, two downed American pilots were plucked from the fringes of the base after 21 hours hiding in a trench from the 1,500 to 2,000 North Vietnamese besieging the base. The antiaircraft fire was so heavy it took 75 fighter-bomber strikes to suppress it enough for a rescue helicopter to get in.

Hill 31, an outpost on the Ho Chi Minh trail, is eight miles inside Laos and north of Highway 9. Military sources said the battalion of 450 paratroopers there was virtually wiped out.

Associated Press correspondent William Barton reported from Khe Sanh that an American helicopter pilot flew back from a mission over the base with 20 AK47 bullet holes in his 30 Arrested in Dope Raid at Kansas U.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Kansas Atty. Gen. Vern Miller quietly led more than 150 law enforcement officers into this sleeping university town at 3 a.m. today and within three hours 30 young people had been booked on drug charges.

Those arrested ranged in age from 16 to 24. The charges brought against them are for sale or possession of narcotics, including LSD, cocaine, hashish, and marijuana.

The attorney general said most of the arrests were made in rooming houses or residences just off the campus of the University of Kansas in this city of 45,000, including 18,000 university students.

Miller, elected last fall, had made a pledge to "leap into the hippie-drug commune of Lawrence with both feet."

He said undercover agents had been at work in Lawrence since December, buying drugs from pushers.

"We actually didn't find as many drugs on campus as we thought we would," said Miller, without elaboration. He said the university had not been advised of the raid.

Fred Howard, acting director of the Kansas Bureau of Investigation, said, "We did go into Oliver Hall, which is a university operated dormitory and we made at least two arrests."

Those booked at the Douglas County Courthouse included 10 listed as university students. The status of the other young people was not immediately clear.

Of the 30 booked, five were young women.

There was no resistance.

Miller and his teams were armed with 39 arrest warrants and the attorney general led parties that made four of the searches. The other teams were led by KBI agents.

of committee and onto the Senate calendar for speedy consideration.

He withdrew the motion, however, when Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff, chairman of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee, said a hearing on the bill had been set for next Wednesday night.

Another bill pending in the House would raise the sales tax rate by a full per cent. That bill also is due for a hearing at the Wednesday night meeting of the House and Senate committees on taxation.

Bell told a newsmen later that he didn't think Bumpers had requested enough money to meet state needs, particularly in the field of education.

"We're going to need more and the sales tax is a way to get it," Bell said. "I think we'll be able to pass it."

Later in the day, several senators, including some who helped pass the amended income tax bill, expressed discontent over the modification in the measure.

"It takes the equity right out of the bill," said one.

The amendment did not reduce any of the rate increases Bumpers proposed on taxable incomes of $25,000 or less, but cut by one-half per cent the rate he had proposed on taxable incomes of $25,000 to $40,000 and by two per cent the rate he had proposed on taxable incomes above $40,000.

Approval of the amended income tax bill remains questionable when the measure is considered by the House.

"The House is always tougher," Bumpers remarked at one point Thursday, obviously weary of the difficulty his program was encountering.

Here's a rundown on the governor's tax proposals to date:

— Use tax exemption repealer: Approved by the Senate 34-0 Wednesday, but with one amendment exempting locomotive fuel and another stretching the phase-out period from July 1, 1972, to July 1, 1974. Bumpers said the amendments were disagreeable, but he might be able to "live with them." The Senate bill was given a "do pass" recommendation Thursday by the House Revenue and Taxation Committee.

— The House version of the bill has two amendments and another which would exempt from the tax contracts already existing and approved by the state Public Service Commission. Bumpers said that amendment more disagreeable than the other two. The House bill is awaiting further action in the House.

— Real estate transfer tax rate reduction: Approved by the Senate 31-3 Tuesday and sent to the House. The House has passed its own version of the bill 89-5 Wednesday. Each bill is now pending in the opposite chamber. The bills would reduce the tax from $3 per $1,000 of gross consideration in a real estate transaction to $1.10 of gross consideration and would require that the tax be paid by the seller, rather than the buyer.

— Sales tax on repairs: Approved by the Senate 24-10 Tuesday. That measure is pending in the House. Bumpers says the amendment is designed to kill the bill, which is awaiting further House consideration.

— Reduction in the merchants' sales tax discount: Approved 23-9 by the Senate Tuesday. That bill is pending in the House. The House has amended its own version of the bill to allow a merchant to deduct from the sales tax revenue his sales tax loss when a customer defaults on a bill. Bumpers says the bill with that amendment is unacceptable. The measure is awaiting further House action.

— Extension of sales tax to cigarettes: Neither chamber had taken action on this measure. Bumpers dropped it from his package Thursday.

— Extension of sales tax to used goods: Neither chamber had taken action on this measure. Bumpers dropped it Thursday.

— Excise tax hike for cigarettes: The administration's bill was introduced Thursday in the Senate. Bills to accomplish the same thing were also introduced Thursday in the House by Rep. James M. Matthews of Dumas and by Reps. N. B. Murphy of Hamburg and Bob Traylor of Little Rock. The Matthews bill and the Murphy-Traylor bill are not administration measures.

— The income tax bill: Approved as amended by the Senate Thursday and pending in the House.

Hijacker Is Arrested by Canadians

By BETTY HOPPER
Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE (AP) — A 19-year-old U.S. Army inductee from California who said he wanted to go to Cuba hijacked a Western Airlines jetliner with 97 persons aboard Thursday night and settled for a landing in Canada.

The plane, which carried 87 Army inductees, was on a flight from San Francisco to Seattle when it was hijacked over Medford, Ore. It landed in Vancouver, B.C., where Royal Canadian Mounted Police took the unnamed soldier into custody.

After the plane was checked and the other 90 passengers cleared customs, they were flown to Seattle. The plane had a crew of six.

Capt. Bruce DeSpain, pilot of the plane, said that about 40 minutes out of San Francisco the inductee told a stewardess he had a bomb under his shirt and wanted to be taken to the flight deck.

There, the man told the captain he wanted to be flown to Cuba, DeSpain said. Informed the plane did not have enough fuel for such a flight, DeSpain said the soldier then insisted he wanted to go to a foreign country.

DeSpain said he suggested Vancouver and the long-haired, mustachioed inductee agreed.

The pilot said that when the plane landed the soldier asked DeSpain not to go near the terminal building. He asked to talk to the tower.

DeSpain said the inductee told the tower he had no bomb and wanted to give himself up.

An RCMP spokesman said the man would be held in Vancouver and probably would be charged under the criminal code of Canada.

He said he did not know what charges would be filed. Canada's criminal code has no specific provision for punishment of hijackers.

A spokesman at the Flight Area Control Center at the Vancouver airport said the plane landed at 10:16 p.m. "and 10 minutes later the pilot advised us the passengers were disembarking."

"A few minutes after that," he said, "we were advised that the hijacker was coming off the plane."

Most of those aboard apparently were unaware of what had happened until the plane landed in Vancouver.

A Western spokesman said the pilot notified headquarters at the time of the hijacking but that the conversation could not be disclosed. He said he did not know whether a federal sky marshal was aboard the plane.

The inductees, all from the Oakland, Calif., area, were headed for Ft. Lewis, an Army base near Tacoma, Wash. The flight originated in Ontario, Calif.

Arkansans Against Tax Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Television Station KATV, Channel 7 at Little Rock, announced Thursday that it had conducted a statewide poll that showed that 68 per cent of Arkansans don't favor a tax increase.

The poll also reflected that if taxes are increased, Arkansans with an opinion on the issue would prefer that the income tax rates be raised rather than the sales tax rate.

Jim Pitcock, KATV news director, announced results of the telephone survey of 683 persons on Wednesday. Pitcock said the poll was conducted by Jim Ranchino, political analyst for the station and acting chairman of the Political Science Department of Ouachita Baptist University in Arkadelphia.

Ranchino conducted several polls for the station during last year's gubernatorial campaign. Pitcock said the poll was conducted on a scientific basis.

The voter sample was asked two questions. The results were:

— Do you favor a tax increase? No, 68 per cent. Yes, 22 per cent. Not sure, 10 per cent.

— If taxes are increased, would you prefer a personal income tax increase or a sales tax increase? Income tax, 36 per cent. Sales tax, 21 per cent. Undecided, 41 per cent.

some positions and fighting is continuing," said Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the South Vietnamese troops operating in southern Laos.

He said hundreds of North Vietnamese were killed, most of them by U.S. planes and helicopters.

He refused to give any South Vietnamese casualties but indicated that they, too, were heavy.

The two American pilots who were rescued were shot down Thursday in an F4 Phantom fighter-bomber while attacking the North Vietnamese around Hill 31. After the rescue, they were flown to a military hospital at Da Nang and were reported in good condition.

A second U.S. Phantom was hit by enemy ground fire near Hill 31 Thursday, but the pilot flew the plane to the South China Sea and the two men aboard bailed out. One was killed, the second was rescued in good condition.

U.S. helicopter pilots reported a heavy barrage of antiaircraft fire all along the border. Lam said that because of the heavy fire, he had refused to allow the inaugural run today of a helicopter the U.S. Command made available to take newsmen into Laos.

In the parallel drive against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps in eastern Cambodia, more than 300 miles to the south, South Vietnamese rangers reported a lopsided victory in fighting Thursday near the Chup rubber plantation along Highway 7.

Backed by air and artillery strikes, the rangers claimed 87 North Vietnamese killed and a number of weapons captured.

First reports said nine rangers were wounded.

South Vietnamese engineers also were reported to have reopened Highway 1, the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway. A series of attacks by Communist forces earlier this week cut traffic along the supply route.

monetary restraint of 1969 and 1970 were paying off.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics blamed the rise mainly on bad weather that kept hogs and cattle from getting to market, driving up volatile wholesale farm prices 4.5 per cent.

"The effect of rugged weather on hog prices is certainly a short-range phenomenon," Labor Secretary James B. Hodgson said. But he acknowledged the boost was "more than we expected."

The key industrial goods index rose by three-tenths of one per cent, a jump that Hodgson called modest.

But wholesale prices of manufactured goods went up five-tenths of one per cent and processed foods climbed 1.4 per cent.

The figures, subject to revision next week, meant that it costs $112.70 to buy wholesale what $100 bought the 1967 base year.

The February advance was the highest in one month since an identical increase in May 1969. The two-month rise matched the gain of April and May of 1966.

On Capitol Hill, Connolly told congressmen the 1.1 per cent increase in the money supply in January and the average 3 per cent increase since September were "not at all satisfactory."

Budget Director George P. Shultz chimed in that it will take a "real propellant" from monetary policy if Nixon is to reach his economic goals.

Last week on Capitol Hill, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns cast doubt on whether the board will pump out the money at the 6 per cent a year that Nixon's economic advisers are seeking.

He said banks now have plenty of money. What is needed, he said, is more confidence by consumers.

Paul McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said Nixon's suspension of a law requiring payment of union-scale wage standards on federal construction projects would have a modest impact on rising costs in the homebuilding industry.

Roughly three-quarters of housing contractors are non-union, McCracken said.

In Chicago, Housing Secretary George Romney said Nixon might have to take further steps to halt the wage-price spiral in the construction industry if no voluntary agreement is reached.

Court Martial for My Lai Investigator

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today ordered a general court-martial trial for Col. Oran A. Henderson on charges that he "willfully failed to conduct a proper and thorough investigation" of the alleged My Lai massacre in Vietnam.

At the same time, the Army dismissed "failure to obey lawful regulations" which have been filed against Capt. Dennis H. Johnson, an intelligence officer.

This means that only one of 14 officers originally charged in connection with an alleged My Lai coverup will stand trial.

Henderson, 50, of Indianapolis, was commander of the 11th Infantry Brigade at the time of the My Lai incident on March 16, 1968.

The brigade was parent of an infantry task force which swept through the hamlet area where more than 100 South Vietnamese men, women and children allegedly were slain by members of a platoon headed by Lt. William Calley, who is now on trial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on murder charges.

In addition to a dereliction of duty charge, Henderson will be tried for failure to obey a lawful regulation, making a false official statement and false swearing.

If convicted of all charges, Henderson could receive a maximum sentence of six years at hard labor, the Army said.

The court-martial will be held at Ft. Meade, Md., but no date has yet been set.

Lt. Gen. Jonathan O. Seaman, soon to retire as commander of the 1st Army Headquarters at Ft. Meade, "determined that there was sufficient evidence to refer the charges for trial by general court-martial," the Army said.

Thieu Claims He Was Misquoted

SAIGON (AP) — A spokesman for President Nguyen Van Thieu said today that Thieu had been misquoted as saying an invasion of North Vietnam is only a matter of time.

"The quotes were inaccurate and out of context," said Hoang Duc Nha, press secretary to the president.

"What President Thieu said was that South Vietnamese forces have taken the initiative and are now capable of fighting the Communists any time, any place, on any battlefield."

The English-language Saigon Post quoted Thieu as saying in a speech in Pleiku Wednesday that "a march on North Vietnam now only depends on the time factor."

The government news service, Vietnam Press, reported that in "answering the convention's request for a march north, President Thieu said it was only a matter of time."

Nha insisted that the president had made no such statement.

Doctor Says Calley Fully Able to Think

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A psychiatrist heading a three-member Army sanity board said today that Lt. William L. Calley Jr. was fully able to think out his actions during his company's assault on My Lai.

Col. Arnold W. Johnson of Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, wearing four rows of service ribbons on his tunic, was the last of the board to testify for the prosecution. When his cross-examination is finished the trial will go into recess until next Wednesday.

The prosecution also asked to be able to summarize the testimony of potential rebuttal witnesses in the absence of the jury to determine in advance the admissibility of such testimony.

Calley is accused of premeditated murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians during Charlie Company's search and destroy mission at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

Johnson's testimony went to the "premeditated" portion of the charge.

He said the board had been asked to find "any condition or pattern, or symptoms ... that would lead us to feel he had a diseased defect or derangement" on that day.

"We were unable to do so," he said.

However, Johnson testified that there has been an upswing of psychiatric casualties in Vietnam. "We are not sure it has anything to do with combat," he said, but there has been an increase of psychiatric casualties all over the Army.

He said he did not wish to speculate about the reasons on the witness stand.

Johnson served one year in Vietnam as a psychiatrist.

Says Bill Just Political Cronyism

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith says that a bill introduced in the Arkansas House by Rep. John Bethell of Des Arc appears to smack of "political cronyism."

Bethell's bill provides that a state employee dismissed for any reason and re-employed within five years in the same or similar state position shall be reinstated at the same job grade and pay he held at the time of his dismissal or "at a higher classification."

Nowotny, one of two Republicans in the House, thinks the bill may be an attempt to open the door for the return to state employment of an employee during the administration of former Gov. Orval E. Faubus who was dismissed when Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller took office more than four years ago.

"The Faubus era seems to die slowly," Nowotny said.

Bethell said, however, that he had not thought of any "political angle" in introducing the bill.

He said he had introduced the measure because one department head had told him that the agency had to rehire former state employees at a lower classification than they occupied before their state employment was terminated.

"It's not right," Bethell said. "They may have worked a number of years for the state."

He said that "regardless" of the reasons for their dismissal, except for inefficiency, a state agency should be able to rehire former employees at the same or higher pay.

"The way I view the bill, it must have been put in for somebody who must have been around during the Faubus administration," Nowotny said in an interview. "I may be wrong, but it could mean that someone who was asked to quit during the change of administration or voluntarily left is now coming back to get a job at the same classification."

"The five years so perfectly fits the end of the Faubus era and therefore I'm suspicious," he said.

He said that "at this moment" he intended on fighting the bill, "not on a partisan basis, but because it's bad precedent."

He said the measure was "unnecessary legislation."

Welfare Fraud Crackdown Promised

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor Sam A. Weems of the 17th Judicial District says he will begin cracking down on fraud and misrepresentation in welfare cases.

Weems said state Welfare Department officials had agreed to cooperate in the crackdown.

"We've been lax in investigating these cases," Weems said. "If we start putting some of these people in jail — especially fathers who are not supporting their families — maybe it will cause a change in attitude."

Weems said he was aware his "hard line" may in some cases penalize children.

"But the buck must stop somewhere — compassion can only go so far," he said.

NEW YORK (AP) — The public broadcasting stations on Thursday night started winding up the "NET Playhouse" series evoking the mood of the Depression with the first of a two-part production of Clifford Odets' 1935 play, "Paradise Lost."

The work, less a plot-filled drama than a series of keenly honed character sketches, is not ideally matched to television and camera techniques. After almost an hour, new characters were still joining the already large cast, creating problems in trying to straighten out relationships. It needed the reminiscences, before and after the play by Luther Adler, Stella Adler and others who were members with Odets of the group theatre which first produced it.

The story, set in 1932, was played out in the living room of the Gordons, a Depression-hit family reduced to renting rooms, and their neighbors and friends. They were worried about all sorts of things—the need for jobs or living wages, conflicts within the family.

The acting of the very large cast was superb. The central roles were played by Eli Wallach as head of the family and Jo Van Fleet as his wife.

Even if Odets' big canvas was difficult to contain on the small screen, it still managed to reconstruct the period and carried considerable punch. The second half will be broadcast next Thursday.

Frank McGee, part of NBC's "Nightly News" troupe, will return to the air on Tuesday, March 2. McGee has been out of action since Nov. 20, because of major gastric surgery.

MRS. LEON BERT LEWIS

Dallas will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bert Lewis who were married at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, February 20, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carol E. Anderson of Texarkana. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Leon D. Lewis, also of Texarkana. The bride is the former Cheryl Lyn Anderson, grand-daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Hooten of Hope.

Officiating the double ring ceremony was the Rev. H. G. Rhea.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white crepe enhanced with scalloped lace and pearl buttons. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured to clusters of blossoms accented with seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of shasta daisies with streamers of pastel blue and yellow ribbon tied in love knots. The bride wore the traditional "something old, new, borrowed, blue, and a sixpence" in her shoe. The sixpence, a gift from the bridegroom's parents, had been saved for this occasion since their tour of duty with the Air Force in England.

Mrs. Curtis L. Parker served as matron of honor for her sister. Miss Ann Anderson, another sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Paul Lewis served as best man for his brother.

A reception followed the ceremony.

So why is it, Helen, that I find myself thinking "How would it be with another man?" I have no one in mind. I love only Sam. Mate swappers disgust me.

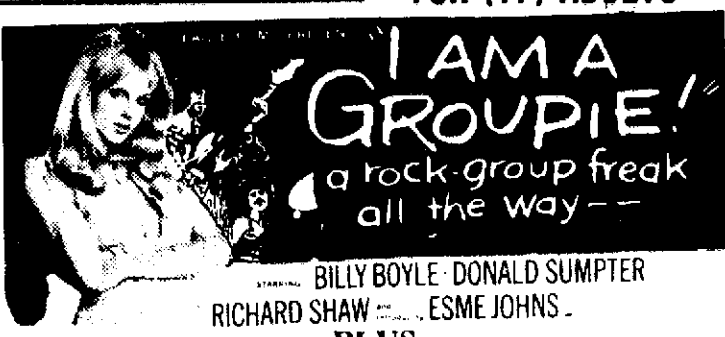

I'm sometimes frightened by my thoughts. Am I not-normal?

PERSONAL FINANCE

By CARLTON SMITH

What could be one of the worst blows to family finances in years is lurking just around the corner in Washington.

The administration, having maneuvered itself into a large budget deficit, is scratching around for ways to save money. The latest idea is to extract it from the elderly and working families who help support parents or older relatives.

Some time in February, according to insiders, the administration will ask Congress to cut the costs of the Medicare program. Method: Reduce days of hospital coverage for Medicare patients, require them to pay a bigger share of doctors' bills and—most incredible of all—eliminate custodial care in nursing homes.

The whole bag of proposals, say the planners, would save around $400 million a year in federal government costs. Admirable—but has any thought been given to what happens when you shift this $400 million to those who will then pay the tab?

The Senate's Special Committee on Aging, headed by Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., has been engaged for many months in a massive study of the economic and related problems of the elderly. Some highlights:

- A special analysis of census data showed that in 1968 the median income of over-65 couples—husband and wife—was $4,803. Single aged persons were living on a median $1,855 a year.

- Only about one-third of the aged had as much income as the $3,930 which the Bureau of Labor Statistics said was then needed for a

Use Hardboard In Bathroom

FHA mortgage statistics show that about 70 per cent of homes being built today have two or more bathrooms. In existing houses it is estimated that 36 per cent have two bathrooms, many of them added since original construction.

As lavish bath accessory emporiums now testify, bathrooms have evolved from the clinical white look to elaborate decor. The reasons for this trend are many. There is a changing public attitude as young people become homeowners, demanding more and more extras to give them the feeling of luxury living. This in turn is reflected in an increasing awareness of the resale advantages of homes with more and better bathrooms.

Where no space is available for a full bath, a half-bath or even a new dressing area in a master bedroom, adds considerable convenience.

Do-it-yourselfers who want to swing with the multi-bathroom syndrome can save time and money with prefinished hardboards designed especially for use in high-moisture areas. These plastic-surfaced hardboard panels are available in plastic-surfaced woodgrains, marble reproductions, tapestry and many other designs. They come in large, easy-to-apply sections.

The tough, moisture-resistant surface of prefinished hardboard makes it ideal for wet areas surrounding tub, shower and washbowl. Hardboard panels can be cleaned easily by wiping them with a sudsy cloth or sponge.

A recently discovered benefit of hardboard is its sound-resistant quality. Laboratory tests have shown that when prefinished hardboard is used alone it is a good sound barrier; when it is used in combination with gypsum board and mineral fiber insulation it makes a superior noise-resistant partition.

Since satisfaction comes when the amateur job has a professional look, hardboard paneling comes with many ready-made accessories such as vinyl-clad moldings to match woodgrains and other hardboard finishes. These are particularly helpful in getting that tight-to-the-corner or flat-to-the-wall effect. Other accessories include color-matched nails to eliminate countersinking, and waterproof adhesive in cartridges for applications without nails.

"moderate level of living."
• Nearly half (44 per cent) were living below poverty level—$2,020 a year for a couple—and another 11 per cent were "near poor."

These are the people onto whom the administration proposes to shift a larger share of medical and hospital bills?

Data from the study by Williams' committee shows that in fiscal 1969 the average health bill for a person 65 or over was $692. It would be increased, in many cases, by hundreds of dollars under the proposed Medicare changes.

Eliminate, completely, nursing-home care? A large percentage of the aged require, eventually, some period of custodial care. It is costly. Probably more than 90 per cent of the over-65 (it's our own guess; there is not data) do not have the means to pay for a month of more of long-term care.

Who, then, is going to pay for it—if people are not left to die in the streets, as we assume they will not?

Relatives, to the extent that they are able. A long period of custodial care could wreck many younger families' finances.

If there's no one else to pay the bills, they'll be shifted to local welfare and relief agencies. Many are in desperate straits even now.

One other suggestion in the administration proposal seems to be realistic: limit doctors' fees. Most doctors have done very well under Medicare. If part of the costs must be shifted to someone else, the least-poor candidates are the doctors.

There is, of course, another possible solution. Take the money we're dumping into Southeast Asia and you could put all the Medicare patients in the country in gold-plated beds. Maybe there's something wrong with our national priorities.

Soph Stops Fordham From Upset

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
After 40 minutes, the crowd was emotion-drained and hoarse. This was the Fordham-Marquette revival meeting at Madison Square Garden.

Jim Chones then stepped up to lead the rally ... and Marquette suddenly saw the light.

With the chants of thousands providing spiritual accompaniment, Chones staggered Fordham's giant-killers with seven overtime points and magnificent Marquette nailed an 85-80 college basketball victory Thursday night.

"I'm proud of the way sophomores stood up under the pressure of overtime in the Big Apple," said Marquette Coach Al McGuire, referring especially to Chones' 22-point, 15-rebound effort. "He (Chones) is capable of so much."

"Chones was the difference," agreed Charlie Yelverton, Fordham's ace forward who knifed Marquette's hip-hugging defense for 25 impossible points.

The 6-foot-11 super sophomore did provide the impetus for Marquette's 34th straight victory that polished the Warriors' image as the nation's No. 2-ranked club. But he wasn't the entire story, as 19,500 ruckus-raising fans can testify.

There were 14 ties and a cast of heroes in the two-fisted battle that ended with a 68 deadlock at the end of regulation.

"We couldn't get the knockout punch," said Dean Meminger, Marquette's "Dream" guard who threw in 20 points.

"Fordham forced us to play their game. They're so small, like our Marquette teams of the past."

The bruising Warriors flexed their muscles underneath the backboards from the start. Players were decked on both sides in the rugged play and, at one point, Marquette guard Alie McGuire, the coach's son, had to leave the contest with blood streaming down his face.

"We played 40 minutes at both ends," said Coach McGuire "It was one of the best-coached games I've ever seen—I mean, by Fordham of course. I was surprised that they were so well coached (by Dick Phelps). I knew he was good, but not that good."

The Fordham-Marquette clash topped a relatively light schedule around the nation in which no other Top Ten teams saw action.

Tulsa beat Memphis State 94-91; in double overtime; St. Louis tipped Wichita State 73-72 in another overtime game; Houston drubbed Lamar Tech 93-74; New Mexico State blasted West Texas State 87-60; Syracuse turned back Rutgers 88-81 in two overtimes; Providence beat DePaul 74-64; Santa Clara downed Nevada-Reno 99-85; Colorado State tripped New Mexico 68-67 and Texas-El Paso whipped Wyoming 66-65 in other games.

The defeat did little to tarnish Fordham's Cinderella image this year as the Rams lost only their second game in 22 while the Warriors pocketed No. 22.

"The game definitely convinced us that we belong among the better teams in the country," said Yelverton, "I only hope the people are convinced now."

Fordham is having its best year in 20 seasons with rookie coach Phelps at the helm. Only last year, the Rams had a lackluster 10-15 record.

Steve Bracey led all scorers with 35 points to pace Tulsa's victory over Memphis State; St. Louis blew leads of 10 and 15 points but came back to beat

Nicklaus Leader in PGA Meet

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Mother Nature simply refused to enlist in "Arnie's Army."

He couldn't even draft her. "Those putting greens are loaded with fertilizer and, with all that sun, you could almost hear them growing," said a downtrodden Arnold Palmer.

"My last chance was the rain. That didn't work out either."

Palmer shot a puny 75 on opening day of the 53rd PGA Championship. He was a world behind fellow super star Jack Nicklaus and a pack-commanding 69.

"The greens are the dominating factor in this championship said Palmer, "no matter what the weather."

Nicklaus and the morning crowd ripped PGA National Golf Club during relatively calm weather, a dozen breaking par on the tough 7,096-yard course.

It was different after lunch. Only four matinee shooters outdid the par 36-36-72 test while Palmer—with adoring thousands dying at his side—was crushing his own hope for an elusive first PGA title.

Former Masters champion Bob Goaly, red-faced Bobby Mitchell and left hander Bob Charles of New Zealand were closest to Nicklaus with two-under-par 70s.

The most severe challenge was looming from the star-spangled group at 71 that included ex-U.S. Open kings Julius Boros, Billy Casper, Gary Player, Lee Trevino and Tony Jacklin.

"We all sat around hoping the rain would quit," said Nicklaus, who is hosting Jacklin and Player at his new home for the week.

"You hate to see a good day's work go out the window."

Also poised among the challengers at one-under 71 were oldtimer Sam Snead, Bert Yancey, Deane Beman, Bruce Devlin and young Johnny Miller.

Defending PGA champ Dave Stockton struggled in with a 72 and 1971's leading money winner, Tom Shaw, was square with his idol, Palmer, at a non-contending 75.

As Palmer rambled unhappily through his round for the news corps, rain pounded on the tent with several groups of players still on the lush, green course.

"The only thing that would make me happy is for the bottom to fall out," he said. "We need to wash the slate clean."

A PGA official with a walkie-talkie was contacting a supervisor on the course. Palmer listened intently for some breath of hope.

"What did he say?" asked Arnold.

"They're still playing," answered the PGA man.

Williams of Cubs Signs for $100,000

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago Cubs have made Iron Man Billy Williams their first $100,000 player but the San Francisco Giants don't intend to test William Mays' endurance with a 10-year contract.

Williams, who batted .322, crashed 42 home runs and extended his National League Record to 1,117 consecutive games before being rested on Sept. 3 last season, signed a six-figure contract Thursday shortly before the Cubs doled out about $65,000 to pitcher Ken Holtzman, completing the 1971 enrollment.

Mays, who'll be 40 years old in May, asked the Giants for a 10-year pact at $75,000 per-season, but was instead offered the same salary figure over five years. He was paid well over $100,000 last season.

He said that under the long-term contract he would play as long as he could, then serve as a coach, instructor or public relations representative for the club.

The Philadelphia Phillies' infield, meanwhile, remained in a salary stalemate with General Manager John Quinn. First baseman Tony Taylor, shortstop Larry Bowa and third baseman Don Money want more cash, and the latter pair have hired an agent to negotiate for them and pitcher Chris Short.

"Nobody in the world needs help more than I do," explained Money, who batted .295 in his second major league season. "I'm just a country boy who barely made it through high school. Put me in an office with John Quinn and what chance do I have? He's been going through these contract matters for 25 or 30 years."

Cincinnati's long list of unsigned regulars was reduced by one when outfielder Hal McRae agreed to salary terms. He joins shortstop Woody Woodward and second baseman Tommy Helms as the lone probable starters in the Reds' fold.

Oakland slugger Reggie Jackson, who held out for five weeks last spring after belting 47 homers in 1969, signed up for an estimated $50,000. Jackson hit only 23 homers last season and slipped from a .275 batting average in 1969 to .237.

Other signees included outfielder Bobby Murcer and third baseman Jerry Kenney of the New York Yankees, outfielder Curt Motton of Baltimore, pitcher Dennis Higgins of Cleveland, outfielder Byron Browne of the Phillies and infielder Frank Quilici of Minnesota.

40 Colleges After Deaf Cage Player

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — More than 40 colleges are after Bennie Fuller the basketball player, but few can accommodate Bennie Fuller the student.

Fuller, who average 50.9 points a game this year and hit 102 in one game, is deaf.

"He won't have any problem on the basketball court," said Houston Nutt, Fuller's coach at the Arkansas School for the Deaf. "The only thing would be the classes."

Nutt speaks from experience. He played in the mid 1950s at Kentucky and Oklahoma State with a 30 per cent loss of hearing.

"It will be hard, very hard," Nutt said. "I know, for it was hard for me. I had to take notes. I had to have help."

"These schools will have to think about it," Nutt said. "Some of them have no idea what to do with him. They just want him to play basketball, but there is more to it than that. Another deaf player with him would help."

Nutt said he knew of at least three colleges that have programs for the deaf. These include New Mexico State University, Austin Peay State in Tennessee and National Polytechnic at Rochester, N.Y.

"I don't want this thing to end now," Nutt said. "If he doesn't go to school he'll wind up working in a shoe shop or as a printer."

Nutt said Fuller's goal is to play professional basketball.

"There's no question in my mind that he's got the ability to play in the pros," Nutt said. "When he scores 30 to 35 points, he's had a bad night."

The 6-2, 185-pound Fuller was covered by two, three and even four men overtime he stepped on the court.

"He'd be lost if he only had one man on him," Nutt said. "That's when he's really good ... when they're all over him. He likes it tough."

Nutt says the pressure doesn't bother Bennie.

"He never gets nervous with all this attention," Nutt said. "All he wants to do is win."

Fuller is an exceptional shooter who hit almost 52 per cent of his shots from the field.

"There are a lot of times I have to tell him to shoot," Nutt said. "If a man is open, he'll make that pass. I don't know of any other high school player who can get it in the basket like he can. If he's not hitting, too well outside, he'll start driving. He's always thinking about where he can get the most points."

Fuller scored 606 points as a freshman, 1,007 as a sophomore, 1,301 as a junior and 1,681 as a senior.

After Fuller's 102-point performance against Leola in mid-January, Nutt was bombarded with questions.

Transfers Are Leading TCU in Scoring

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian's two junior college transfer standouts have placed a new dimension to Southwest Conference basketball scoring statistics.

The latest tabulation shows TCU's Eugene Kennedy fourth in conference scoring with 21.1 points per game and teammate Simpson Degrafe with 17.6 points per game.

Kennedy paces the rebound race with an average of 16.8 per game.

Southern Methodist standout Gene Phillips continues his domination of the scoring category with 27.4 points per game. William Chatmon of Baylor is No. 2 with 14.4 points per game.

Chatmon also is second in rebounding with a 14.4 per game average.

Actual Runs Into Spa Win Circle

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Claiborne Farms broke into the winner's circle Thursday as Actual, trained by Henry Forrest, won the $6,500 feature race at Oaklawn Park here.

Actual, with Steve Richie aboard, ran the 5 1/4 furlongs in 1:06 to win over Amber Melody by three lengths.

The filly returned $18, $11.40 and $6.80. Amber Melody, with Paul Herron aboard, paid $20.40 and $11. Daisy Purple, ridden by Lonnie Ray paid $7.40 for show.

The 2-1 favorite, Love Locked Out, finished fifth.

Actual went into the turn running seventh as Toddy Lou and Danrullah shot from the gate to take early command. Richie moved Actual to fifth as the field moved into the back stretch.

As the front runners began to tire entering the stretch, Actual shot through a gap on the inside to take charge with Amber Melody and Daisy Purple falling behind.

Jockey James McKnight scored a winning triple Thursday. He rode Kasun in the third, Jeannine Prince in the seventh and Close It Up in the ninth.

The daily double, Bandido Chico in the first and Jittery Child in the second, numbers 1 and 11, returned $13.60.

The crowd of 8,722 wagered $675,546.

Elegant Heir, carrying 121 pounds, is favored in today's $10,000 feature race at Oaklawn.

Others in the 1 mile and 70 yard allowance event are Spud (121), Hindyia (114), Te V. Frolic (114), Yorkville (109), Carshido (110) and Southern Gossip (107).

Millionaire Foyt Grabs Post Spot

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, already a millionaire from his exploits at Indianapolis, is fast becoming the spoiler for drivers who earn fabulous incomes from stock car racing.

The 36-year-old five times national driving champion grabbed another plum away from the big names of NASCAR's Grand National circuit Thursday when he won the pole position for Sunday's $207,675 Miller High Life 500 at Ontario Motor Speedway.

He toured the 2.5-mile layout in a 1969 Mercury at 151.711 miles an hour to beat Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N. C., for the honor of leading the 51-car field to the line in the first big event for stock cars at the $25.5-million West Coast Facility.

It was the second time in two weeks that the legendary Foyt has bested the regular speed demons. He edged Isaac, the 1970 Grand National champ, for the pole position in the Daytona 500 on Feb. 14. That feat was worth $5,000 for the Texan.

"You sure are costing me money," Isaac told Foyt, who will collect $2,500 for his pole effort here. "I'm sure glad we don't have to worry about you in the next race."

Foyt, whose regular beat is the USAC championship circuit, signed with the Wood brothers of Stuart, Va., to drive their Mercury in the first two races of the season—Daytona and Ontario.

He not only won the pole at Daytona but had the race in the bag until he ran out of gas with only a few laps to go. He wound up fourth.

Isaac's qualifying speed for the Miller 500 was 150.097 m.p.h. in a Dodge.

He and Foyt were the only drivers to exceed 150 m.p.h. as 20 drivers qualified Thursday for Sunday's 11 a.m. start.

Richard Petty, NASCAR's all-time money and events winner, got the other front row berth, driving his Plymouth at 149.630 m.p.h.

Twenty more spots in the starting field will be filled today, with LeeRoy Yarborough, Bobby Allison and Dick Brooks the leading candidates still without qualifying times.

The final 11 positions will be filled in time trials Saturday.

Cordelia is a Latin name meaning "warm-hearted."

Magic Number Is Seven for the Squires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 The magic number is seven for the Virginia Squires in their drive for the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division title.

With Charlie Scott dropping in 27 points Thursday night, the Squires whipped the Carolina Cougars 127-114 and stepped closer to the division crown.

Any combination of victories for the Squires or losses for second-place Kentucky totaling seven will lock it up.

In other ABA games, Pittsburgh trimmed the Floridians 129-115 and Utah nipped Indiana 112-109.

There were no games scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

The Cougars wasted 26 points by Joe Caldwell and 21 by Bob Verga in bowing to the Squires at Hampton, Va. Mike Malloy scored 18 for the winners.

John Brisker pumped in six three-point baskets and finished with 41 points, leading the Condors past the Floridians at Pittsburgh. A three-pointer by Brisker broke a third-quarter deadlock and Pittsburgh led the rest of the way.

Merv Jackson's tie-breaking field goal with 36 seconds to play carried Utah past Indiana and gave the Stars a 2½-game Western Division lead over the second-place Pa Pacers.

Zelmo Beaty of the Stars was high man with 30 points. Roger Brown and Bill Keller had 26 each for Indiana.

Casals, King Join Again in Doubles Play

WINCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — Billie Jean King, America's No. 1 player, seeks to join old doubles partner Rosie Casals of San Francisco in the singles semifinals tonight in completion of the quarter-finals of the $12,500 National Women's Indoor Tennis Championships.

Mrs. King, who swept through her opening match Wednesday, watched from the sidelines Thursday night as Miss Casals, the No. 2 seeded American, opened the quarter-finals with a 6-3, 6-3 victory over Kerry Melville of Australia.

In quarter-finals set for tonight, Mrs. King, winner of five of seven previous tournaments on the $100,000 Virginia Slims tour, meets Australia's Judy Tegart Dalton.

Other quarter-finals will send top foreign seed Francoise Durr of France against Kristy Pigeon of Danville, Calif., and Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., against Ann Hayden Jones of England.

In qualifying round action Thursday night, Miss Durr, who upset Mrs. King in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last weekend, defeated Ceci Martinez of San Francisco 6-2, 6-2; Miss Pigeon wore down Julie Heldman of New York 6-4, 0-6, 7-5, and Miss Bartkowicz rallied for a 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 decision over Australia's Wendy Gilchrist.

Help Possible If Heart Beat Slows

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—What causes the pulse to slow in a Stokes-Adams attack? As in the case of other types of heart ailments, are restricted activities and diet necessary following this condition?

Dear Reader—A Stokes-Adams attack usually refers to an episode characterized by a seizure or convulsion that has been caused by inadequate blood flow to the brain. The poor circulation results from the heart beating so slowly that it is not pumping enough blood. The slow heart rate is caused by a defect in the heart that prevents the normal transmission of the heart's electrical impulse from the top part of the heart to the lower heavy muscular pumping chambers.

In normal people the heart is stimulated by a tiny anatomical spark plug at the top of the heart. When this impulse can not pass to the lower part of the heart, a much slower signal is generated within the heavy heart muscle itself. This is all that keeps the heart going. Depending upon where the slower signal comes from, the heart rate may be 50 or 30 or less a minute. Trouble begins when the rate gets real slow.

Usually, the reason the normal impulse from the top of the heart is not transmitted is because of a diseased area at the junction of the upper and lower heart chambers. The disease is usually our old "friend," atherosclerosis, or fatty deposits, in the arteries that supply blood to that area.

In some cases when there are too many attacks or the heart rate can not be kept at high enough level by other means (pills), an electrical pacemaker or stimulator can be put in the heart. This device sends out signals regularly that are transmitted directly from the device to the heart muscle of the lower chamber through wires attached by needles to the heart muscle. Many people are alive today because of these devices. Not all patients need them if they respond well to medicine.

Yes, diet is important. Just controlling the body weight is important since it decreases the amount of work the heart must do.

Obviously, anyone with Stokes-Adams attacks should be under a doctor's care. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

North's three-heart bid was a limit raise. His hand was worth 12 points in support of hearts and he wanted to be in game unless his partner had a rock-bottom minimum. South's hand was far from it! In fact it was almost strong enough for an opening force. South checked for aces and bid six hearts after finding one missing.

He ruffed the second spade and played his ace of trumps. He was going to claim if both opponents followed, but West was unkind enough to discard a spade. South paused to study the future play.

There is a special kind of bridge player's astigmatism that causes them to overlook the possibilities of the dummy and concentrate on their own cards. If South had this disease he would have worked on the club suit by leading to the ace, returning to the king and ruffing. East would overruff and return a diamond whereupon South would go down two tricks and complain of bad luck.

South didn't fall into this trap. Instead he looked at dummy's diamonds. South cashed the ace and king, entered dummy with the ace of clubs and played the queen of diamonds.

This left East stone-cold dead in the market. If he ruffed, South would overruff; draw trumps with one left in dummy; cash the king of clubs; ruff another club with dummy's last trump and make the last two tricks with the last two diamonds. If East didn't ruff, South would continue the diamond parade until all losing clubs had been thrown away and then finessé against the jack of trumps.

SO YOU WANT TO BE By ERNIE HOOD
Larry C. Butte, Montana, "I'm interested in the production side of newspaper work. What's involved in making this a career?"
Dear Larry: Newspaper composing room workers, including typesetters, mono-type keyboard operators, linotype operators, paste-up men and others, usually acquire their skills through apprenticeships which last from two to six years.
Applicants for apprenticeship usually must be high school graduates who have had courses in printing and typing. A general interest in electronics and photography also is becoming increasingly useful, while artistic ability is an asset for those who wish to do layout work.
Technological advancement is expected to somewhat inhibit growth in this occupation as new typesetting equipment gradually enables type to be set faster using fewer operators. However, a few thousand job openings for composing room workers should be available each year.

Medicare Provides Him a New Leg
Medicare is a new leg. That is the way George Odom of Hope, Arkansas describes it; and he has the leg to prove it. Battery acid spilled on his right leg while he was working. Medication and treatment were unable to save it. He entered the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital and his leg was amputated. George Odom was confined to a wheel chair. He then decided to check with Social Security Representative Ken Hargis to see if Medicare would be of further help. Medicare can pay for artificial limbs in some cases and this case met the requirements. Medicare paid $328.78 on the purchase of the artificial leg and he paid the remainder.

While confined to a wheel chair, things looked bleak for George Odom. But he says Medicare paid a lot of his hospital and doctor bills and then gave him, "a leg to stand on." Otis Blackwood, District Manager of the Social Security Office in Texarkana, Texas, urges all people 65 and over to visit or phone their social security office if they have any questions about Medicare. "For those people over 65 who are not enrolled in Part B, Medical Insurance, the deadline for enrolling is 3-31-71," Mr. Blackwood added.

Fla., asks: "Can you give me some idea of the demand for elementary school teachers in the coming years?"
Dear Carolyn: Young people preparing to teach in elementary schools can expect to find an estimated 1.2 million positions available over the next 10 years, with by far the largest number, 1.1 million, opening as experienced teachers retire, die or leave the profession for other reasons.
Although enrollments probably will remain relatively stable during this period, about 100,000 new teaching positions will be created in an effort to reduce the pupil-teacher ratio, as well as to replace persons not meeting certification requirements.
First reigning king to visit the United States was David Kalakaua, king of the Sandwich Islands (Hawaii), who visited Washington, D.C., in 1874.

IRA WILLIAMS JR.

Ira Williams Jr. son of Mrs. Marie Williams of 614 S. Walnut St., Hope, Arkansas enlisted in the U.S. Navy recently and is now undergoing 10 weeks of training at Orlando, Florida. Ira is a graduate of Yerger High School. Ira enlisted at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Branch Station at Texarkana, Arkansas and was sworn in at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station at Little Rock, Arkansas. Upon completion of recruit training Ira will be granted 14 days leave to visit family and friends before reporting to his next duty station.
First Class Petty Officer McGuffie said that the Navy offers qualified young men a career with a good future in the United States Navy.

All One Gives to God

COMES BACK TO THE GIVER

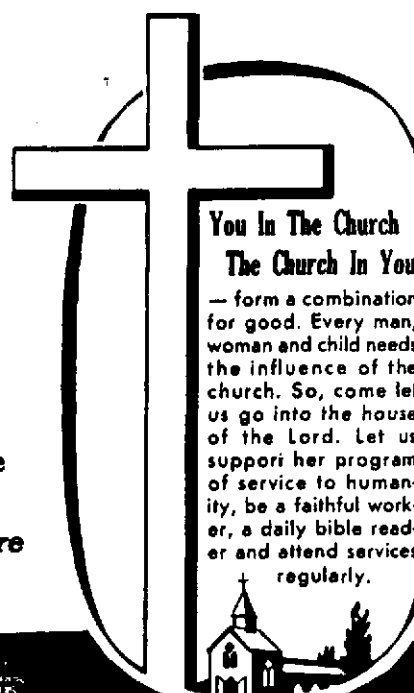

Here is my watch. If it is to be of value to me, it has to be a watch I can count on. When I look at its face, I must know beyond doubt, that it can be trusted. If I have to be forever checking it, it is of little use to me, and certainly it is not fulfilling the purpose for which it was created. Life too, is that way!

If a man is to be of value, he must be the kind of person that can be counted on. His face must radiate dependability. If those who live about you have to be forever checking on you... you are not fulfilling the purpose for which God created you. Now, Paul said, "those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you."

Help us to attend church worship every week and to draw near to Thee. May we gather in thoughts that stray and control feelings that may be troublesome. For sin give repentance, for sorrow give trust, for strife of passion and care grant rest. Through this timepiece illustration, may we be led to bring our lives to Thee, that we may test and measure them by thine unerring law.

Boston Bruins Rewriting Record Book

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Bruins, taking dead aim on the National Hockey League's East Division title, are rewriting the record book along the way.

They shattered Vancouver 8-3 Thursday night with six goals in the third period including three by Johnny Bucyk. The first of Bucyk's goal triggered a spurt of three scores in 20 seconds—the fastest trio of goals for any team in NHL history.

The old mark was three goals in 21 seconds by Chicago's Bill Mosienko 19 years ago. Mosienko's record remains intact because his are the three fastest goals by one man. But the Bruins own the team record after Bucyk scored at 4:50 the third period of Thursday, Eddie Westfall hit at 5:02 and Ted Green at 5:10.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Minnesota tied Toronto 1-1, Philadelphia nipped Buffalo 3-2, St. Louis downed Detroit 3-1 and Montreal topped Los Angeles 5-3.

Vancouver had the early lead against the Bruins on goals by Rosaire Paiement and Murray Hall but Boston rallied to tie it in the second period with Fred Stanfield and John McKenzie connecting.

Then came the three goals inside of 20 seconds to break the game open in the third period. Bucyk's three-goals gave him a career-high 41 for the season.

The victory gave the Bruins a nine-point bulge over idle New York in the East race. Boston also has played one less game than the Rangers.

Buster Harvey's power play goal with less than three minutes remaining earned Minnesota its tie with Toronto and allowed the North Stars to hang onto a piece of third place in the tight West Division playoff scramble.

Harvey's goal balanced a short-handed goal scored by the Leafs' Jim Dorey in the second period of the hard-hitting, close-checking game.

Philadelphia moved into a third place tie with Minnesota by nipping Buffalo. Jimmy Johnson's second period goal turned out to be the winner for the Flyers. Andre Lacroix and Cliff Schmeitz had the other Philadelphia goals while Gil Perreault and Gerry Meehan hit for the Sabres.

Christian Bodeleau fired one goal and set up another as St. Louis cruised past Detroit. Red Berenson, traded by the Blues in a controversial deal two weeks ago, set up Detroit's only goal against his ex-teammates.

Peter Mahovlich collected three goals, including a pair in the opening period, to power Montreal past Los Angeles.

Body Recovered From Lake

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP)—Authorities said the body of Joseph Defay, 33, of Bridgman, Mich., was recovered Thursday from Bull Shoals Lake near here. He drowned Wednesday night when his boat capsized.

Officers said Defay and two companions, Elmer Ebberman of Libertyville, Ill., and Erwin Herman of Stevensville, Mich., were fishing in the lake at the time of the accident.

Ebberman swam to shore and Herman was rescued by a passing fisherman, authorities said.

The Least Impressed Is Nicklaus

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—The least impressed over Jack Nicklaus' bid this week for an unprecedented double grand slam in professional golf is Jack Nicklaus himself.

"I don't take much stock in it—it's something newspapermen invented," the golden-haired powerhouse said after shooting a three-under-par 69 for the first round lead in the 53rd PGA Golf Championship.

If Jack can maintain his present momentum and win his second PGA here this week, he will become the first player ever to win the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and PGA twice around.

"It's my ambition to make a second sweep," admits Jack's South African contemporary, Gary Player. "I want to score a second grand slam and then retire to my ranch in Johannesburg and devote myself to my thoroughbreds."

"I'd never pick up a golf club again."

Player has a long way to go. He has won only the British Open twice and still needs one more Masters, PGA and British Open. Ben Hogan, now retired, and Gene Sarazen, 69 Saturday, are the only other players to score the slam.

Nicklaus insists his aim is a simple one. He wants to win more major championships than any player who ever lived. He needs four more to overtake the great Bob Jones, who quit at the age of 28 with 13 of them.

Here's how he currently ranks:

Bob Jones 13—Five U.S. Amateur, four U.S. Opens, three British Opens, one British Amateur.

Walter Hagen 11—Five PGA, four British Opens, two U.S. Opens.

Jack Nicklaus 10—Two U.S. Amateurs, two U.S. Opens, three Masters, two British Opens, one PGA.

"I make no secret about that fact that I aim at the major championships," Nicklaus said. "Not that the regular tour tournaments are not important. I play in them. I enjoy them. "But my greatest pleasure is in winning the major tournaments."

The 1971 season is viewing the new Nicklaus, so suave after a rigid weight-losing campaign and so mod with his moppety hair-do that he is often mistaken for one of the game's new breed.

He is less tense, far more relaxed and far more agreeable than he has been in other years.

"I suppose a fellow matures with age," said Jack, now a mellow 31.

Wins Independent Tourney

Spring Hill's Independent Basketball Team won first place in the Hempstead Tourney Saturday night by defeating Perry's Truckers 101 to 96 in a rough and tumble game.

Lets Reflect

Life is 10 percent how you make it and 90 percent how you take it.—Selected from Apples of Gold.

Bethel's Youth Commemorate Church's Founder's Day "Annual Founder's Day" in all aspects of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, South America, British Columbia, Africa and the Isles of the Sea, is the most historically memorialized occasion in the administration of world's oldest black Christian organization, (the African Methodist Episcopal Church-A.M.E.).

During the month of February of each year, the church observes this occasion throughout her length and breadth. Colleges, Universities, Hospitals, banks, and other auxiliaries of the general church recapitulate the social and political climate of the United States of America as it related its image and functions to the organizations of the A. M. E. Church and influenced the socio-economic, domestic, and political life of the American Negro in relationship to the slavery institution, the abolition of slavery, reconstruction and the almost infinite court battles affecting the freedom and citizenship status of the American Negro. The A. M. E. Church was organized in 1787, in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and is the largest body of Black Methodist in the world.

On Sunday evening at 6:30, the youth of Bethel will present a Symposium. The program's participants are: Misses Peggy Williams, Brenda Wilson, Virginia Williams of BeBee Memorial C. M. E. Church, Gloria Nelson, Linda Walker, Sarah A. Palmer, Vickie Davis, Connie Ross, Eliza White and Linda Williams. Young men include Richard Stuart, Charles R. Johnson, and Daryle Muldrew. The general theme is: "The Emancipation Proclamation". Special music for the occasion will be furnished by the youth choir under the direction of Miss Brenda Wilson. Mrs. Annie Johnson, Youth Supervisor of Bethel; Dr. W. G. Wynn is the church's minister.
